The image shows the Ravelry website's login and sign-up interface. The background is a light blue sky with white clouds and three hot air balloons. The balloons are yellow, teal, and yellow, each with a basket containing a cat, a dog, and a sheep. The word 'ravelry' is written in a large, red, lowercase font across the top. On the right side, there is a white box containing the login and sign-up forms. The login form has fields for 'Username' (containing 'lambweaves') and 'Password' (containing ''). Below the password field is a link for 'I forgot'. There is a checkbox for 'Remember me' and a 'Log in' button. Below the login form is a 'Sign Up' section with the text 'Ravelry is a free website for knitters, crocheters, and fiber artists.' and a 'Join now' button. Two red arrows point from the text on the left to the login and sign-up sections.

About TFAC

Our Triangle Fiber Arts Center (TFAC) in Durham, NC is open twice a week for drop-in hours. Here we also host study groups, classes on many topics, workshops, events, and our extensive reference library. Looms and equipment for rental use are housed here. There are also occasional informal weaving opportunities to sample structure, color interactions, and fibers.

Community Outreach is one of the missions of the Triangle Weavers Guild. Each year the Guild participates in several events with the goal of educating the community about fiber arts. Guild members conduct demonstrations and give non-weavers the opportunity to try their hand at weaving and view spinning demonstrations. Our continuing goal is to promote a greater interest in the fiber arts and weaving by inspiring new weavers to come join the fun!

Exhibits and demonstrations are held annually at Carolina Fiberfest, the Carrboro Arts Center Elf Fair and festivals, fairs, events, summer weaving camps and schools throughout the Triangle region.

Learning Opportunities

Education and learning are an important part of our organization. Weaving classes, workshops, and study groups are offered so that weavers can continue to develop and perfect their skills. Instructors and teachers within the guild are available to foster development and growth among members.

Classes & Workshops

Classes taught by our guild members and workshops taught by nationally known instructors are taught at our Triangle Fiber Arts Center all year round.

Study Groups

Many special interest groups meet on a regular basis to study specific topics. Most of these meet at our Triangle Fiber Arts Center, although some meet at other locations.

Illuminations

Illuminations are member-led activities which may have a nominal fee. These educational opportunities are open to guild members only.

Teachers

The guild boasts many teachers who, besides teaching classes at the Fiber Arts Center, also teach private lessons.

Challenges & Exchanges

During the year guild members participate in a variety of Challenges & Exchanges which are optional fun learning experiences.

The Triangle Weavers Guild strives to always engage its members in educational opportunities. Members can participate in variety of classes and workshops where they focus on their craft in a creative learning and fun-filled environment. Participants learn new techniques, master new skills or just enjoy being inspired and sharing information with other experienced and talented artisan weavers or textile artists.

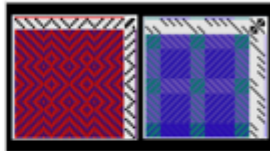

Classes are taught by our talented guild members. These classes include beginning and specialty weaving classes, and classes in dyeing and other fiber arts. Opportunities for individual instruction are listed on the Teachers page.

What are Illoominations?

"Il-loom-in-ations" are member-led activities which may or may not have a fee. If there is a fee, it will be a materials fee to defray

Study Groups

Guild members who have particular interests form study groups to share ideas, learn and explore and inspire one another in a positive small group environment. Some study groups focus on exploration of structures like lace, doubleweave, crackle or overshot, or explore color, sewing with their handwovens or any number of topics. These groups meet outside the regular monthly meeting and may be ongoing or may meet only a few times.

Any member may initiate a study group by putting a notice in the newsletter or by making an announcement at a general meeting.

Because some study groups meet in members' homes, the size of a specific group may be limited.

Unless otherwise indicated below, most study groups are open for new members to join. Please email the contact listed if you are interested.

Study Group Sign Ups

We have several current study groups that have room for additional members:

- 8 Harness Study Group - 1st Monday at 10
- Fiber Exploration - 4th Monday at 12
- Heddle to the Metal Rigid Heddle - 3rd Saturday at 11
- Interfacing, Creative Use of your Weaving (formerly known as Garment) - 1st Tuesday at 11:30
- Shibori - 3rd Sunday at 2 pm

Teachers

Several of our members are interested in teaching outside the regular guild classes and workshops. Please contact them directly for more information.

Challenges & Exchanges

During the year guild members participate in a variety of Challenges & Exchanges which are optional fun learning experiences for members.

Examples of challenges and exchanges that the guild members have participated in recently include:

1. The Four Card Draw Challenge in which a member randomly draws 4 cards that represent a weave structure, a color way, a fiber content, and a finishing technique which they then must apply to a finished project. This challenge encourages members to work outside their normal weaving choices.
2. The Beast in a Bag Challenge in which members place unwanted yarn in a brown paper bag. The bags are then exchanged and the recipient of the bag must weave something with the contents of the bag to return to the owner of the yarn by the end of the challenge time period. This challenge promotes some very interesting and creative weaving!
3. A Napkin Exchange in which every participant weaves 4 napkins and to exchange for 4 napkins woven by 4 different weavers. Each year the item chosen to exchange is different. For example, it could be towels, mug mats, placemats.

Library

The Triangle Weavers Guild Lending Library contains nearly 500 titles on subjects including weaving, dyeing, spinning, tapestry, felting, basketry and other surface design arts. The library features books, periodicals, DVDs and videos, and weaving samples. These are available to members in good standing.

The library is located in the Triangle Fiber Arts Studio (TFAC), and it is available to members during drop-in hours. To view a list of all materials in the Triangle Weavers Guild Lending Library, click here. Printed copies are available at the TFAC and at the library cart during our monthly meetings at the Seymour Center.

In addition to the circulating collection, there is also a reference collection available for use during drop-in hours at the TFAC. These items are located on the bookshelves in the main studio room.

Members can request books to be delivered to the monthly guild meetings at the Seymour Center by emailing guild librarians at triangleweaverslibrary@gmail.com. Requests for materials should be submitted by Monday before the guild meeting on Thursday. There is no limit on the number of books that can be requested. If a book is currently checked out, we will let you know.

Our normal check-out period is 60 days. Books can be returned to the TFAC during drop-in hours or at monthly guild meetings at the Seymour Center.

Sharon Grubb

After completing Jennifer Moore's Double Rainbow workshop in March, I was inspired to weave her Full Spectrum shawl. She had an example at the workshop and it positively glowed. It is a two-block doubleweave in 10/2 perle cotton that rotates the 20 Tubular Spectrum colors in both warp and weft. The colors rotate through the warp with 4 colors in each 1" block, using her double rainbow technique in which each time you change the block, you drop the first color and add a new one. I slightly modified the treadling blocks but otherwise followed Jennifer's pattern which I purchased from Lunatic Fringe. The outcome is stunning, and is one of the most beautiful pieces I've seen using the Tubular Spectrum yarns.

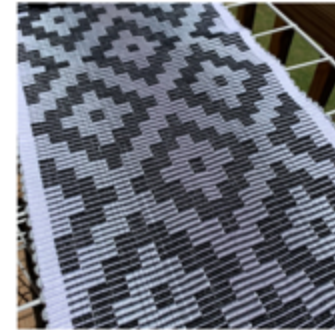

Joan Beebe

I decided to make a table runner for a wedding gift, but the bride is all about black/white/gray, and rep weave is usually all about blocks of color. There weren't enough variations of gray available online to simply swap color for gray.

Using the pattern, "My Father's Daughter: Rug to Runners" from Handwoven Sept/Oct 2019, I wound the warp as a "fade" using white and 3 shades of gray for the pattern colors and black and white for the background, all Marion's suggestion.

I'm super pleased with the results — the runner is totally reversible. I even hemmed the ends in opposite directions, so there is truly no right/wrong side.

May 2020

Pattie Lamb

These scarves were woven using a Blazing Shuttles warp called Aloha. The warp is 8/2 tencel and the weft is 20/2 silk. The pattern is a modified version of Iowa Weaver's circles in turned taquete.

TWG Members Only

As a Triangle Weavers Guild member you now have access to a variety of guild documents and educational handouts online. Just click on the headings or links below to go to the page or topic that interests you.

Blog

Our blog is a great forum for posting educational tips and tricks, keeping us up-to-date on study group activities and guild community and outreach activities, journaling about great fiber related-trips that guild members have taken, and much more. We welcome your contributions. Please send contributions to Carol Lerner at clerner44@gmail.com

Feel free to comment on any posts you see here. As the blog grows, posts will be organized by month in the Archives on the right. They will also be categorized by topic under Category (like Tips, Weaving, Tapestry, Study Groups, etc.) You can follow the blog by signing on to the website or you can download an RSS Reader like Feedly if you prefer.

Equipment Rentals

The guild has a limited amount of weaving equipment available for rent to members and for use in guild-sponsored classes and workshops.

Forms & Documents

The Forms & Documents section contains a copy of our By-Laws and printable copies of various forms including Membership forms and Photo Release forms.

An Experiment in Doubleweave

7/20/2020

0 Comments

The Warpsters Study Group is beginning a study of doubleweave. Most of us are using Jennifer Moore's Doubleweave book as inspiration. This book gives us instructions for creating:

- 4 harness doubleweave samplers
- 8 harness doubleweave samplers
- 4 harness double rainbow sampler
